webmd name change

Please be aware that WebMd[®] Corporation has changed its name to Emdeon Corporation. This name change is now reflected on our Web site (www.fchp.org).

According to Emdeon's press release, WebMD Corporation is changing its corporate name in order to avoid confusion with its subsidiary, WebMD Health, which is expected to trade separately on NASDAQ following its planned initial public offering. The company made this decision because the WebMD name is more closely associated with WebMD Health and its Web sites than with its other businesses. Emdeon offers a number of services to connect physicians, hospitals, pharmacies, insurance providers, and consumers with health care transactions and information retrieval.
